ACHIEVEMENTS

FIRST NATIONAL SCHOOL SPORTS RANKING ROLLER SKATING CHAMPIONSHIP (2017-18)

Sports and academics go hand-in-hand. One is incomplete without the other. Mind Tree School has always encouraged sports and physical activities in order to ensure a holistic development of students.

It gives us immense pride to share that two of our shining stars – Sameeha Garg of Grade IV and Manan Garg of Grade IX have brought laurels by winning Silver and Gold medals in 300, 500 and 1000 metres Roller Skating Championship held at South Point Public School, Sonapat (Haryana) from 20-22 April 2018. This event was organized by The School Sports Development and Promotion Foundation.

Manan Garg has made a crowning stroke as he has been selected for special practice training session to be organised in Thailand. Now, that's an achievement!!

Sameeha Garg - IV A

Manan Garg - IX A

March 26 - 31, 2018: The Learning Expedition 'Jungle Ki Khoj':

'The world is a jungle, and if it's not a bit of a jungle in the home, a child is not possibly fit to enter the outside world.'

- Bette Davis

The school organised a five-day long 'Outbound Learning Expedition' for the students where they explored the ecosystem and bio-diversity of Jim Corbett Park. The trip offered adventure and other activities to inculcate a sense of social participation, responsibility, confidence and team spirit among the students. The activities included body-surfing, ladder climbing, river crossing etc. The students attended workshops on survival skills in the jungle, that led them to realise their instinct instead of being cautious of the vulnerabilities.

'The experience was just like an everlasting break from the monotonous day to day schedule and proved to be an eye opener, as I got to explore more about myself.' Vishwas Anand - VIII C

'I feel myself to be lucky to be a part of the expedition. From the location to the food and activities, everything was well organised.' Suhani Kulshrestha - IX B

'I had an exceptional experience and I liked body-surfing and theatre the best of all activities.' Sparsh Goyal - VII B

'The heart of the matter was that it taught me steps that we must undertake in order to protect the flora and fauna of the earth.' Suryansh Singh - VII B

'I heartily thank my school for organising this trip. It really helped me explore more about nature and myself.' Hunar - VII B

'Such trips not only reinforce our bonding with the students, but also help them become confident and aware of their strengths.' Ms Anuradha Saini - Faculty

'The lure of the jungle is enticing, it beckons and mesmerises. Looking forward to other such expeditions with the students. It was a great learning experience.' Ms Pallavi - Faculty

March 25 - 30, 2018: Trip to Goa - Grade X:

The world is a big, beautiful playground and the best gift we can give ourselves is a lifetime of adventures! So, students of Grade X went on a journey travelling, exploring and celebrating life. After working hard for the exams, students were all set to explore the beaches of Goa. The students returned to school with minds brimming with memories and cameras packed with photographs to be cherished.

'Amidst the electrifying atmosphere and the lovely people of Goa, the trip was altogether an exceptional venture and will go down with me as one of the best experiences.' Kerman Singh - X B

'We made sand castles, collected seashells, clicked the picturesque location, played in the salty sea water and did a lot more which made it a trip to remember for a lifetime.' Khushi Chhabra - X C

'The fort, beaches, temples and churches that we visited left me mesmerised. This last trip of ours in this school was surely a noteworthy one.' Gaurish Batra - X C

March 31, 2018: 'Parichay' The Orientation Programme:

Parichay - The Orientation Programme 2018-19 was organised in the school with the intention of getting the parents familiar with the staff as well as with what the new session had in store for the students. Latest methodologies of teaching and the changes which have been introduced were shared with the parents so that they were prepared before hand. Parents also cleared their doubts and queries.

April 04, 2018: Commencement of the New Session (2018-19):

Siah Mahajan - IV A

Rishika Saini - IV B

Gurmyiesha - IX A

'Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success.' - Henry Ford

The beginning of a new session is always an auspicious time - a time for new hopes and renewed dreams. After the examination fever, it's the time to enter the school with new energy and fresh new vibes. The first assembly for the session 2018-19 was conducted amidst mirth and gaiety. At the outset, Gurmyiesha welcomed the newcomers and assured warmth and love from the school. The morning prayer was conducted by choir; Siah Mahajan and Rishika Saini expressed their inhibitions, yet exhilaration on entering the new campus. They even ensured to be good disciples.

April 09, 2018: Story on 'Honesty' - Grade IV - V:

Kashvi Jindal, through the story of a young girl, Sumiti, gave a strong and impactful message to the audience, how one must swear by the proverb 'Honesty is the best policy'. Sumiti, through one incident of her life, could understand why it's important to be truthful in life and keep one's conscience clear. It was one of the stories that students could easily relate to.

Kashvi Jindal - V A

April 10, 2018: Talk on 'Respecting Others' - Grade VI - VII:

'Respect is earned, honesty is appreciated, trust is gained and loyalty is returned.'

Presenting a talk on these lines Kushaldeep Kaur stated the implications of how respecting others is a dramatic reflection of the respect we want for ourselves. She insisted that to gain respect, we have to ensure that the same is being meted out to the person we are interacting with.

Kushaldeep Kaur - VI A

April 11, 2018: Talk on 'World Health Day' - Grade VIII - X:

'Health is like money, you never have a true idea of its value until you lose it.'

Akanksha Arora presented a talk on World Health Day and notified that this day is celebrated on 7th April annually. This day aims at increasing life expectancy of people and creating awareness about the importance of good health and healthy lifestyle.

Akanksha Arora - X C

April 13, 2018: Celebration of Foundation Day:

On 13th April 2018, Mind Tree School, Panjokhra celebrated the 8th Founders' Day programme. Through her talk, Shreya Sethi of Grade IX A shared her thoughts about what Mind Tree School, Panjokhra stands for the students and the staff of the school. What began as a mere building has transformed into a symbol of passion, dedication and sincerity. Today it stands as a dignified and glorious institution, which moulds young minds and hearts. She also took this opportunity to profusely thank the staff members whose untiring efforts have paid off, in the form of success the Mindtreeans are achieving in academics as well as in sports. This was followed by a grand cultural programme comprising of skits, songs and dances.

'I will always remember that there is a school, where I made infinite beautiful memories...the greatest journey of my life will always be through these halls, through the corridors of my second home -Mind Tree School.'

Shreya Sethi - IX A

'As soon as I enter the Mind Tree campus, wave upon wave of positive energy encompasses my heart and mind, and paves the wave to great learning experiences.'

Sajal Nanda - X B

April 16, 2018: Assembly on 'National Orchids' Day' - Grade IV - V:

Rohaan Khera informed that this day is celebrated as such to create awareness about these beautiful flowers which are fragrant, colourful and special. Orchids have always drawn people due to their exotic shapes and colours. They are found all over the world, but they continue to attract and fascinate people who love them.

April 20, 2018: Talk on 'Why Breakfast is the Most Important Meal of the Day' - Joint Assembly:

After a long overnight fast, the food we intake to break that fast is called breakfast. Anshika Mangla gave us an insight into this most important part of our meal. To start our day on a healthy and nutritious note, breakfast is a must. Tanvi Mittal's poem motivated and encouraged the students to take the day head-on by taking a substantial breakfast.

Tanvi Mittal - X B Anshika Mangla - X B

"The heavens with its array of stars, moons and constellations smiled down at the eager young faces looking up to them and revealed their mysteries." An evening spent gazing stars at Mind Tree School was a unique experience. Students browsed stars, planets and collected information about the Solar System and the hidden treasures of the universe. This endeavour was aimed to prepare students with the scientific temperament and to give them a hands-on experience of using a telescope for sky-gazing. Participants enjoyed observing celestial objects in the night sky.

April 20, 2018: Summer Star Gazing Camp:

'It was a night that I will always remember throughout my life. I got the opportunity to behold in front of me the moon, the stars and the universe. It was no less than a dream.'

Kriti Chopra - IV C

'Before this I had many queries in my mind regarding the mysteries related to universe but all of them got a pathway through this workshop.'

Yaasha Bhardwaj - IV A

'I was very excited at participating in this unique camp. The most interesting part was when I got to see Jupiter and the Moon through a TELESCOPE. It was amazing. I loved the food.'

Navya Ahuja - IV D

'The fun of star gazing was unbelievable. Everyone was very excited. We watched the Moon, Jupiter and Jupiter's Moon. We had a lot of fun staying in school till midnight. The refreshments were wonderful. Thank you!'

Karan Vohra - IV B

'Star Gazing was the greatest thing that can happen in a child's life. Everything was explained in a good manner. I really liked it.'

I LOVE STAR GAZING.

Yaasha Bhardwaj - IV A

'All the students appeared to enjoy this novel form of teaching, learning method where they could see for themselves the planets and stars that they had studied in their textbooks. The interaction with their peer groups and the refreshments were like an icing on the cake.'The informal atmosphere helped in creating a special bond with the students.'

April 20 & 21, 2018: Workshop on "Mapping Ambala" Project by Ms Anuradha Sengupta:

Anuradha Sengupta is a renowned journalist/editor and founder-editor of 'Jalebi Ink', a media collective for young adults. She helped to channelise the ideation and conceptualization of the young minds of Mindtreeans. The workshop highlighted the local household stories of Ambala and how they have helped in shaping the history. Ms. Sengupta discussed a variety of different media platforms that can be used by children to showcase their stories. The children were given research assignments to start with. Ms. Sengupta believes that even local stories have global impact, hence she termed it as "GLOCAL".

'A flabbergasting break from the monotonous daily schedule, the workshop enhanced our knowledge about our surroundings and community. With our facilitator's vision on the media, I could gain experience to analyse and interpret my ideas.' Vishvas Anand - VIII C

'The workshop generated curiosity in me about Ambala. We learnt the technique of interviewing commoners. Looking forward to more such upcoming sessions.' Suhani Kulshrestha - IX B

'Stories heard, stories told and stories written are magical. The workshop will definitely help me become a better writer and reporter too.' Gurmyiesha - IX A

'For continuous and sustained growth outside the classrooms, workshops like these play a very important role as they introduce students to things which are different but necessary. The workshop clearly gave wings to the students who instantly showed good results.'

Ms Anu Vadhera - Faculty

April 23, 2018: Talk on "History of Barbie" - Grade IV - V:

Breaking the conventions and bringing in the much needed change, Ruth Handler is credited with the creation of a barbie doll in 1959. The name Barbie Doll is culled from the name of her daughter, Barbara. Shirsti Biswas through her talk informed how this creation was indeed brought in for spreading a clear message that women do have choices and that they can be whatever they want to be in their lives.

Shirsti Biswas - V C

April 23, 2018: Workshop on "Graffiti Art" - Grade VII - X:

To introduce novel and fresh ideas, a workshop was held to decorate the theatre room with graffiti art. Aesthetics and talent have become the basic nature of Mindtreeans which is clearly reflected in the kind of work they do. Students were given a free hand and left to scribble, write and paint: to bring out their creativity. The outcome was not only alluring but very appealing.

'Learning about different hues of spray paints being mixed together to form a perfect piece of art, not only brushed my skills but also opened a new world of creativity for me.'

Anshika Goel - IX A

'Those wall paintings that I used to see in movies and songs came to life when I was given a chance to attend the Graffiti Art Workshop.'

Anshika Madan - VIII A

'The shimmer on the wall with the word 'Drama' painted on it, not only pleased my inner soul but gave a vent to my imagination.'

Shradha Sahni - VII D

'My thoughts about art have really changed after this workshop. With me thinking art as insignificant, I later went to realise how wonderful real art is.'

Shivya Johar - VII D

'The workshop filled my mind with innovative thoughts and ideas; and made me comprehend the ways in which we can express our feelings and emotions.'

Pari Taneja - VII D

April 23, 2018: Talk on "Alternatives to Fossil Fuels" - Grade IV - V:

Fossil fuels are conventional energy sources that cater to the extravagant human demands of energy. But they are indeed the prime trigger of the much talked about issue of global warming. Enlightening everybody on the use of alternative fossil fuels through their talk, Yashwi Jain and Lavanya Malik commented that these fuels can save this planet from damage and humans from running short of power. Care in the use of alternative fossil fuels and a little more effort and investment in this direction from our side can help make this world a better place to live in.

April 25, 2018: World Malaria Day - Grade VIII - X:

On World Malaria Day, Rupanshi Goel informed everybody about the theme as well as the aims of the global event. The aim, she said, is to provide education and understanding of Malaria as a disease that is curable. This year's global theme for World Malaria Day is 'End Malaria for Good.' Shining a spotlight on this event, the WHO believes that together we can eliminate malaria for good and improve the health of millions of people around the world.

Rupanshi Goel - VIII A

May 04 & 05, 2018: Creative Writing Workshop by Samina Mishra - Grade VIII - X:

Samina Mishra is a renowned documentary filmmaker and writer based in New Delhi. She has a special interest in media for children. Through her workshop, she familiarised the students with the understanding of the key tools of poetry composition and its usage. On the first day, she guided them about the intricacies of poetry writing. She provided certain prerequisites so that the poems followed certain rules. In contradiction to the same, next day she let the students free, and encouraged them to frame poetry of their choice.

The students were given a handful of modern and contemporary poems to fiddle with, create various drafts and then come up with one masterpiece of their own. The result was awe inspiring. The workshop, indeed, polished, groomed and released the budding poets within the students.

'Some workshops leave an overwhelming impact on us, and this workshop was one of them. Ma'am not only taught us in abundance about poetry composition, but also guided us to appreciate the works of famous poets and our peers.'

Nandini Singla - VIII A

'With an exceptional power of creating poems, we found our sea of knowledge within the premises of the spellbinding workshop.'

Jasmanpreet Kaur - VIII A

May 09, 2018: Talk on 'The Dangers of Texting While Driving' - Grade VIII - X:

"Safety on road is safe tea at home."

Each year more than 20 million people die due to road accidents and more than 5.77 million people die, not due to the recklessness of drivers but because of utmost dangerous habits of texting while driving. Through his talk, Rishabh Dwivedi, warned about the hazards of texting while driving. Internet, texts and social networking sites will never ever be more important than this beautiful gift of life, bestowed on us by God.

Rishabh Dwivedi - VIII C

May 10 - 11, 2018: Workshop on Adventure Story Writing:

Lavanya Karthik, the author of 'Ninja Nani' series conducted a two-day workshop to plan, plot and write adventure stories. It was carried out with interactive exercises. Students were made to explore story-structure, character-designing, developing plot, and creating suspense. All these were woven together to formulate exciting and spine-chilling adventure stories.

'Engrossed in the world of adventure, we were provided with an in-depth experience of writing adventure stories.' Aashman Garg - VII A
'Introducing, building up and climaxing a story were some of the key practice points which we were made acquainted with. It was a spectacular experience altogether.' Nandini Aggarwal - VII C
'I along with my fellow companions got this golden opportunity to learn the nuances of adventure story writing.' Ishika Gupta - VII C
